SINGLE-POINT ACCESS TO 1.7 MILLION FULL-TEXT DISSERTATIONS AND THESES

Enhance research using PQDT Global with other leading academic databases from ProQuest.

THE WORLD'S MOST COMPREHENSIVE COLLECTION OF DISSERTATIONS AND THESES

ProQuest Dissertations and Theses Global (PQDT Global) simplifies the process of searching for dissertations and theses by providing a single, unified access point for an extensive, trusted collection of 1.7 million full-text graduate works and 3.8 million A&I records that has been designated as an official offsite repository for the US Library of Congress. Comprehensive historic and ongoing coverage from North American universities ensures effective and efficient results, and a multiyear program of partnerships with international universities and national associations is significantly expanding international coverage. Initial content partners for PQDT Global include University College London, London School of Economics and Political Science, University of Cardiff, University of Leicester, University of Aberdeen, University of Bath and University of Valencia.

PQDT Global's curated content platform with expert metadata reduces noise in search results so users can quickly find what they are looking for. Direct access to full text and the ability to cross-search PQDT Global with other ProQuest journal and ebook subscriptions advances the research process.

PQDT Global brings together content from the world's premier universities—from the Ivy League to the Russell Group. Through planned additions of content from the U.K. and Continental Europe, PQDT Global is projected to grow to more than 2 million full-text works and 4.3 million A&I records by 2015. This rich, multilingual database will add 90,000 full-text works each year. And, ProQuest is managing all digitization and sharing digital copies of the works with sponsoring universities to make available in their institutional repositories (IRs).

Complete Your Collection

Dissertations and theses complete your library collection by surfacing original research that can often be the only source of information on a given topic.

Simplify Searching With a Single Unified Access Point for Dissertations and Theses

Comprehensive historic and ongoing coverage from North American universities and significant and growing international content will ensure effective, efficient results.

Explore graduate works from authors such as Carl Sagan to Martin Luther King, Jr. to diverse topics including rock music influences with examples from Led Zeppelin and Jimi Hendrix.

Access Works From Notable Institutions

Initial international content partners for PQDT Global include University College London, London School of Economics and Political Science, University of Cardiff, University of Leicester, University of Aberdeen, University of Bath and University of Valencia.

Offer Critical Support for Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences

In disciplines where journals are not the primary form of scholarly communication, dissertations offer access to significant primary research that is not published in any other format and they surface seminal ideas from notable scholars.

Enhance Research in the Sciences

Dissertations provide additional context for research published in journals or conference proceedings while surfacing hard to find information such as negative results.

Add a New Dimension to Literature Reviews

Dissertations are an important and valuable tool for literature reviews, with deep coverage and extensive bibliographies that surface sources and ideas that would otherwise be missed.

Expose Research in Depth

Audio, video, data, survey instruments, and other types of digital files are included for thousands of works.

Reduce Library ILL Costs

Reduce resources and costs to gain access to dissertations and theses.

MULTIMEDIA SUPPLEMENTAL FILES

Audio, video and other types of digital files are included for thousands of works. By preserving the multimedia material together with the author's work, PQDT Global helps enhance the scholarly record and allows graduate schools and students ensure future access to this valuable research for the academic community.
